LOGO

Our Centennial Logo is almost self-explanatory. The motto of our University Res Non Verba which means Deeds Not Words is imbedded; the one hundred years our institution has received State aid from 1877 thru 1977. This logo also gives the theme for this Centennial Year which is: 100 Years of Excellence; A Past To Remember, A Present To Behold, A Future To Mold.

This institution is FAYETTEVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY, located in Fayetteville, North Carolina, the great State that is symbolized by the Pine Cones.

I would like to thank the following people for inspiration while completing this project: Dr. Barbara Holmes, Dean J. C. Jones and Mr. Irving Veazie.

CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

We entered our 100th year as the second oldest public senior higher education institution in North Carolina. As we move closer to the culmination of our first one hundred years of service to the citizens of North Carolina, it is important not only to reflect on past achievements, but also to recognize that the University is on the threshold of new and exciting advances and a bright future. Therefore, as the year progresses, I shall challenge all of us to combine reflections on the past with visions of the future.

We celebrate 100 years of meeting the needs of students with a deep commitment to excellence and the achievement of human dignity. That quest for excellence and human dignity should be the basis for the beginning of our second century. We must continue to pursue relentlessly the goal of a "Full Service University."

As we think about the achievement of excellence, we might consider these attributes — dedication, commitment, loyalty, and enthusiasm as prerequisites. Therefore, as we move through our Centennial observance, great demands will be placed upon all of us to assess the depth of our commitment to the great tasks which lie before us and Fayetteville State University in the second century of the University's founding. Our spirit is embodied in our Centennial theme, "One Hundred Years of Excellence: A Past to Remember, A Present to Behold, A Future to Mold."

In our observance we must pay tribute to that small band of foresighted men who pooled their meager resources to purchase the land on which the Howard School was built and which was the forerunner of Fayetteville State University. The risks they were willing to take was a measure of their commitment and determination to forge an institution where the concepts of freedom and dignity could be translated into reality. Over the years, Fayetteville State University and other similar institutions have grown and developed and become the spawning ground for ideas, idealism and leadership that have placed them on the cutting edge of educational and social change in America.

Today, Fayetteville State University stands on the threshold of attaining its avowed goal of a "Full Service University". I believe it is a major laboratory in which we are taking advantage of a great opportunity to test the sufficiency of the equalitarian educational philosophy and the fundamental social philosophy of the American Society. We have the opportunity, and are endeavoring, to demonstrate that our ideas about the essential self-esteem, the worth and dignity of the individual, human freedom, and the equality of opportunity for every human being to develop whatever talents he may possess, can be translated into public policies and institutional arrangements that work.

Historical Sketch

Fayetteville State University was established by Senate Bill Number 472 which was ratified by the General Assembly of North Carolina on March 8, 1877. The bill was introduced in the senate by Mr. Thomas Nicholson from Iredell County and was known as the "Act to establish normal schools."

The law did not designate Fayetteville as the place for the school and many cities sought this new "State Colored Normal School." Since the appropriation was only $2,000, the State officials tried to find a school already in operation which they could take over. Upon investigating the Howard School in Fayetteville, which had been in existence since 1867, they decided it had the most to offer and it was selected.

The University has been known by the following names: State Colored Normal School, 1877; State Colored Normal and Industrial School, 1916; State Normal School for the Negro Race, 1921; State Normal School, 1926; Fayetteville State Teachers College, 1939; Fayetteville State College, 1968; and Fayetteville State University, 1969.

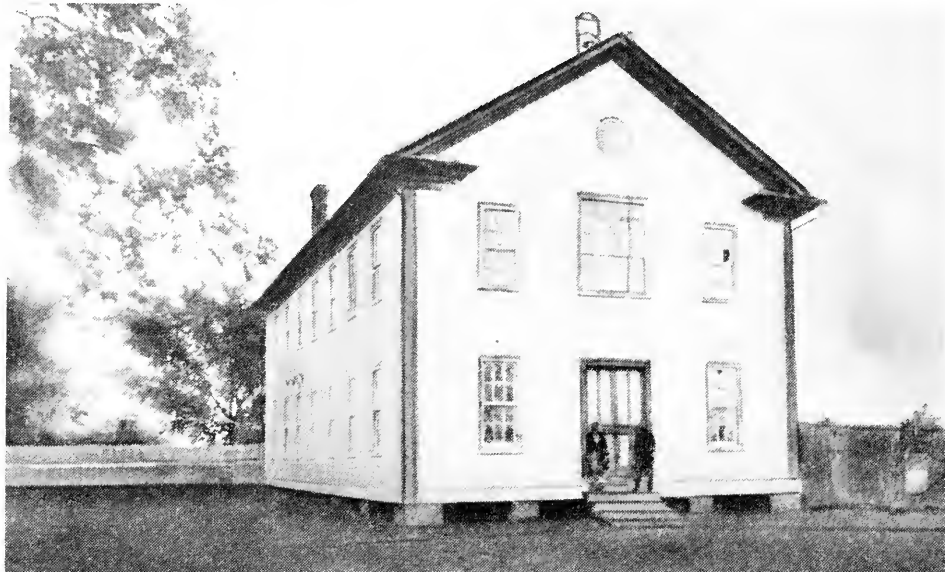

The scope of the University program has been enlarged to cope with new demands. Prior to 1960, the only major offered was Elementary Education. The General Assembly of North Carolina revised the charter of the University in 1959 and authorized the expansion of the curriculum to include Secondary Education majors. These were begun in 1960. Since then several non-teaching majors have been added.

Principals: Mr. Robert L. Harris (1877-1880) and Mr. Charles W. Chesnutt (1880-1883).

Chancellor: Dr. Charles "A" Lyons, Jr., (1972- )

1867 A lot was purchased on Gillespie Street, Fayetteville, by seven Negro citizens for the purpose of building a school. Pictured above are Robert Simmons and Andrew J. Chesnutt. Others were David Bryant, Nelson Carter, George Grainger, Matthew N. Leary, and Thomas Lomax.

The school was named the Howard School in honor of General O. O. Howard, who provided the funds for its erection.

It was in 1877 that the State of North Carolina chartered the institution and named it The State Colored Normal School.

CENTENNIAL MESSAGE from the PROVOST AND VICE CHANCELLOR FOR ACADEMIC AFFAIRS

Fayetteville State University, celebrating its Centennial anniversary, is proud to have the opportunity to examine the meaning of this anniversary, namely, to reflect upon the past and to anticipate the future. We are also proud to chronicle the history of our University, although we realize that history rarely produces full satisfaction; consequently, the celebration of this anniversary deepens the resolve to continue to make further progress.

The commitment to further progress mandates the University's provision of the unique educational resources and opportunities that will facilitate the achievement of the educational objectives, the top priority being the molding of a more effective, developmentally oriented University with intellectual development at the center of its concerns. This major concern is not a promotion of the development of cold, isolated intellect but the advocacy of the primacy of intellectual development in our collegiate objectives.

Finally, our awareness as an institution of a century of achievement helps all of us to have faith in our strength and ability to meet our challenge with firm resolve.

Division Of Business

DIVISION OF BUSINESS PURPOSE

The Division of Business consists of the Department of Business Administration and Economics, and the Department of Business Education.

The Division recognized that one of its main purposes is that of creating an environment where learning can take place. A second and equally important goal is that of making available the skills necessary to satisfy the demands of a dynamic society. In other words, the Division seeks to serve the needs of both students and society by providing courses that prepare the student to assume professional and managerial responsibilities common to the business and professional world.

To meet market demand, courses are offered in accounting, teaching, office management, computer science, marketing, finance, insurance, banking, advertising, real estate, business management, government service, and school administration.

OBJECTIVES

The Division of Business has four basic objectives:

1. To serve the academic needs of undergraduate students seeking preparation for professional and managerial positions in business administration, accounting, marketing, and economics
2. To provide undergraduate curricula for the preparation of professional educators for high schools and vocational schools
3. To provide the educational and environmental experience necessary for those who wish to pursue graduate study
4. To provide public services and to promote research.

Dr. Grace Black
Acting Chairperson

Department Of Business Administration And Economics

The objectives of the of Business Administration and Economics are as follows

1. To awaken in students the desire to master the techniques, specialized skills and managerial ability that will enable them to function efficiently as professionals, whether they be workers or entrepreneurs
2. To provide the educational background necessary for those who wish to pursue graduate or advanced study in the broad field of Business and Economics
3. To stimulate research activity among students through class assignments which develop their analytical skills, and refine research methodology. The use of computer science in research is encouraged
4. To develop in students an awareness of the responsibilities of good citizenship which entails active and concerned participation in community projects such as seminars, workshops, clinics, symposiums, and technical services.

Department Of Business Education

In promoting its program, the Department of Business Education is guided by these objectives.

- 1 To develop in students the techniques and professional skills necessary for success in varied business pursuits
- 2 To provide a knowledge and understanding of the changing character of our economic society
- 3 To develop in students analytical skills and decision-making ability which are required for effective participation in our complex business economy
- 4 To provide knowledge and an appreciation of the functions and operations of business in our modern society
- 5 To develop in students an awareness of the responsibilities of good citizenship
- 6 To provide the foundation that will enable and encourage students to pursue graduate study
- 7 To equip students with quality instruction and the competencies which will enable them to serve successfully in responsible positions in teaching, business, industry, and government.

Division of Education And Human Development

Purpose

The Division of Education and Human Development is committed to striving for attainment of excellence, therefore, the instructional program focuses on the uniqueness of the individual. The Division's basic purposes grow out of its expressed philosophy. Within this philosophical framework, the total development of each individual is viewed as a means of helping each student to develop those competencies, skills and behavior which are germane to providing quality leadership at the elementary and secondary school levels.

Objectives

The Division of Education and Human Development has the following objectives

- 1 To provide a background of professional information which is relevant in the preparation of elementary and secondary school teachers
- 2 To develop an appreciation for teaching as a worthy profession
- 3 To develop those understandings among pre-service and in-service teachers as they relate to growth and developmental patterns of elementary and secondary school pupils which enable a teacher to perform more effectively in the classroom
- 4 To provide pre-service and in-service teachers with those understanding of the foundations of education, (historical, philosophical, psychological and sociological) which enable a teacher to perform more effectively in the classroom
- 5 To provide meaningful opportunities for pre-service teachers to engage in early clinical experiences with children in a variety of teaching/learning situations, and to reinforce the early clinical experiences which pre-service teachers have had with children through professional laboratory experiences during their student internship in cooperating public schools
- 6 To develop a commitment to the code of ethics for professional educators
- 7 To provide opportunities for qualified students to pursue graduate programs in elementary and secondary education

Dr. Walter Pace
Chairman, Division of Education and Human Development

Department Of Education And Psychology

The objectives of the Department of Education and Psychology are

- 1 To develop knowledge and appreciation of the history and philosophy underlying the development of the educational system
- 2 To develop knowledge of the sociological and psychological factors which influence the learning process.
- 3 To develop knowledge of child development as it relates to the total educational experience
- 4 To develop knowledge of skills and competencies required for effective teaching in the chosen field
- 5 To develop competency in evaluating the results of teaching and learning
- 6 To develop an appreciation of teaching as a profession

Dr. Minnie Forte
Chairperson

Mr. Charles Brown

Dr. Dolores J. Dantzier

Department Of Health Physical Education And Recreation

Chairman
Dr. Roosevelt Holmes

The Department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation has the following objectives

1. To provide experiences which will aid the student in developing and maintaining good physical and mental health
2. To provide opportunities for participation in wholesome recreational activities
3. To provide technical training in health and physical education for those persons interested in teaching health and physical education on the secondary school level
4. To provide training for those persons interested in directing programs for community recreation, boys' and girls' club work, camping, recreation areas of industrial concerns and other such agencies, and coaching.

Area Of Art

The University is dedicated to a broad education offering variety and balance in its curricula. The Area of Art is, therefore, concerned with giving the prospective art student the skill, attitude and knowledge to take his place in the community. It is the faculty's desire and purpose that the student respect his work, that the find high satisfaction in it, and that he be fully qualified to perform his tasks.

The objectives of the Area of Art are as follows:

- 1 To prepare students for teaching art in elementary and secondary schools
- 2 To provide enrichment courses to special students and non-art majors
- 3 To develop an intelligent appreciation of and a desire for the visual arts that will be of lasting value in the life of every student
- 4 To provide a service for the Department of Education by providing a concentration in art for elementary education majors
- 5 To provide a minor in art and electives for other students in the University

Mr. Harvey Jenkins

Mr. Oscar C. Willis

Mr. Syed M. Yunus

Area Of Geography

Dr. Dennis Nathaniel

The area of Geography offers a Minor and provides elective courses for all the departments of the various divisions of the University. A minimum of eighteen credit hours are required to minor in geography. There are no prerequisites for any geography courses. A Major program will be offered in the near future.

Objectives

The objectives of the Area of Geography are threefold:

- 1 To develop understanding of the physical and cultural aspects of the earth in relation to men's economic, political, ecological and social endeavors
- 2 To broaden the background of students of other fields by offering service and elective courses and by participating in interdisciplinary activities of the University
- 3 To interest students in and to prepare students for advanced studies and careers in Geography

Area Of Philosophy And Religion

The objectives of the Area of Philosophy and Religion are as follows:

- 1 To acquaint the student with the chief rival philosophical and religious approaches to life and the practical application arising therefrom
- 2 To develop within the student the capacity to think logically, reflectively, in his personal quest for "the True and the Good"
- 3 To encourage the student to work out for himself an intelligent and coherent conceptual framework for his own life commitment
- 4 To maximize within the student a concern for service for mankind
- 5 To provide the student with a broad base of studies which will prepare him for graduate and/or professional and vocational careers in the fields of Philosophy and Religion

Dr. C. C. Thomas

Mr. Arthur Pindle, Jr.

Division Of Arts And Sciences

Purpose:

The division of Arts and Sciences seeks to provide an environment for and to encourage the pursuit of academic excellence, to offer a choice of specialization sufficient for employment and/or as background for advanced study, and to make available a variety of learning experience in an effort to stimulate individualized and continued learning which will facilitate independent and rational adjustments in a multilateral society.

Ms. Valerie Fleming

Division of General Studies

The Division of General Studies is basic to all of the baccalaureate degrees granted at Fayetteville State University. Inaugurated by the University at the opening of the 1976-77 school year, this Division has the major responsibility for the initial growth as well as the critical intellectual development of the students admitted to the University.

The Division is organized on the basis that a broad foundation of general studies adds to the possibility of a student's success, regardless of the field in which the student chooses to specialize. The Division has further responsibility of enabling students to overcome deficiencies.

Aside from the responsibility of sustaining strong, and viable programs directed to learning in its best sense, the Division of General Studies attempts to foster positive human values and create an atmosphere to bring about pleasure and excitement in learning through the innovative and academically stimulating methodologies, courses, and services offered.

Dr. Annette Billie, Chairperson

Center for Continuing Education

The Fayetteville State University Center for Continuing Education was opened on Main Campus on March 1, 1976. It was built from funds provided by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. There are 10,000 square feet of floor space which is used for adult and continuing education seminars/conferences/workshops as well as classes for Continuing Education programs. The University Continuing Education office is also housed in the facility. The mission of the Center is to provide continuing education opportunities to meet the needs of people in communities surrounding the University.

Good-by dear Statel You have brought us to the crossroad of our life's journey and whether we follow the path that will lead us up hill or whether we take the path that will lead us down hill depends on how we, as students here at State have prepared ourselves for the future.

We have toiled four hard long years for the day of graduation. As we anxiously await this day, we are reminiscing all we have accomplished during these past four years.

Our hope is that we may not go under the pressures of life but, that we meet our future goals with courage and strength that will make us successful men and women in our chosen professions.

JUNIORS

Metric System

1 inch + 2.54 centimeters

1 cm + 10 millimeters

Tomorrow we'll be Seniors with this year left behind hoping that next year is the only one in line.

Always in our hearts will be a sense of love and loyalty to you who gave us friendly aid when as Juniors we were afraid.

If some success we shall achieve The credit "YOU" not "WE" receive.

In our success we do believe we long to give not just receive.

To meet with happy hearts, Life's test to falter not, to do our best.

HISTORY OF NATIONAL PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The National Pan-Hellenic Council was organized in May, 1930 at Howard University, Washington, D. C. The charter members were: Kappa Alpha Psi and Omega Psi Phi Fraternities; Alpha Kappa Alpha, Delta Sigma Theta and Zeta Phi Beta Sororities.

In 1931 Alpha Phi Alpha and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternities joined the Council and in 1937 Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority completed the list of organizations that continues to comprise the affiliate organizations of the National Pan-Hellenic Council.

The stated purpose of the organization in 1930 was "Unanimity of thought and action as far as possible in the conduct of Greekletter collegiate fraternities and sororities, and to consider problems of mutual interest to its member organizations."

Early in 1937, the organization was incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois and became known as "The National Pan-Hellenic Council Incorporated."

CONGO

CONGO was established for the specific purpose of ridding the campus of the animosity which results from competition among campus organizations. The members of CONGO hope to establish a better relationship with the community by providing various kinds of services to people.

The members of the Non-Greek organizations met several times with their advisor, Mr. C. I. Brown, before they wrote their constitution. After all of the Non-Greek organizations ratified the constitution, the members of CONGO elected officers. The officers are as follows: Joseph Alsbery, president (Tau Phi Tau), Henry Berry, vice-president (Groove Phi Groove), Verlinda Ray, secretary (Tan Phi Cocoa), Shelia Harrison, assistant secretary (Swing Phi Swing), Joseph Williams, treasury (Iota Phi Theta) were officers for the academic year 1972-73.

President: Gregory Warren      Advisor: C. I. Brown

"Culture for service and service for humanity."

In 1950 the administration of Fayetteville State Teachers College approved a request to organize Greek Letter Organizations on Campus. The founding of Pi Chapter, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., grew out of this new permission. The founding brothers are; James E. Coppage and R. P. Robinson. These brothers also served as advisors of the chapter.

In 1956 the five charter members of Pi Chapter were; Foster Williams of Clinton, North Carolina; James Pettiford of Creedmore, North Carolina; Robert Williams, Clinton, North Carolina; Bennie Wright of Fayetteville, North Carolina; and James Robinson of Warrenton, North Carolina.

ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, often referred to as "AKA," is a sisterhood of some 40,000 college women — graduate and undergraduate — whose main objective is SERVICE to man: the kind that reaches out to people of all races, creeds, and levels. It works through national and regional conventions, chapter meetings, and through a network of committees on all levels to make known and implement its purpose and program.

Founded in 1908 on the campus of Howard University, Washington, D. C., by junior and senior students of the College of Liberal Arts and incorporated in Washington, D. C., January 23, 1913, Alpha Kappa Alpha is the oldest college-based sorority in the world founded by Negro women.

The purpose of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated is "to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards, to promote unity and friendship among college women, to study and help alleviate problems concerning girls and women' to maintain a progressive interest in college life, and to be of service to all mankind."

DELTA SIGMA THETA

At the inception of Delta Sigma Theta in 1913, the 22 Founders envisioned an organization of college women pledged to serious endeavor and community service. These youthful students demonstrated a vital concern for social welfare, academic excellence and cultural enrichment, de-emphasizing the social side of sorority life. Their ideas of scholarship and service have withstood the test of time, and today the organization is committed to program activities designed to secure a better life for all Americans.

GROOVE PHI GROOVE HISTORY

On October 12, 1962 at Morgan State College, 14 male students wished to establish a closer bond, comradeship, and fellowship among male students in colleges and universities. The purpose of this organization is to promote academic awareness and good ethical standards, to promote unity and fellowship among college men, to create intelligent and effective leadership, to study and help alleviate those social and economic problems concerning men in order to improve the status of mankind.

Being aware of the increasing complexity of man's problems, and realizing the necessity of forming an organization for the purpose of studying and solving such problems, this fellowship organized. Its objectives are to cultivate and encourage high scholastic and ethical standards, improve the social stature and promote unity and friendship among college men; and keep alive within the graduate an interest in college life and progressive movement and maturity there from.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

Alpha Phi Omega National Service Fraternity, Incorporated, was founded December 16, 1925 at Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania. This fraternity was found for the purpose of Friendship, Leadership, and Service, to be displayed among the community and campus.

Alpha Phi Omega came into existence on May 3, 1970 at Fayetteville State University, Fayetteville, North Carolina. The first line carried over twenty-seven faithful brothers. Since its existence at Lafayette, Fayetteville State, and other campuses it has sponsored numerous service projects for the campuses and communities across this nation. Due to this fraternity's distinguished principles it will prevail as long as man exists.

Tau Phi Tau a non profit social and service fraternity was founded in 1968 by a group of men at North Carolina Central University, Durham, North Carolina.

In 1969 it was chartered by the State and arrived on the campus of Fayetteville State University in the Fall of 1970.

With a charter line of 29, the men of Tau Phi Tau set about to serve the university as well as the surrounding community.

On holidays Tau Phi Tau extends a helping hand to the community children. Halloween means bags of candies and escorts for trick-or-treaters. Christmas means food drives for the needy, but the highlight of every "Tau Phi Tau" is the Annual Field Day which the fraternity sponsors every spring for the community children with trophies, food, and smiling faces.

ZETA PHI BETA SORORITY, INC.

A Historical Statement of Omega Beta Chapter
 On the campus of Fayetteville State University, Fayetteville, North Carolina on May 17, 1952, the Omega Beta Chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc. was organized. Soror Beulah Jones, now retired was the organizer and first advisor of the chapter. Fourteen young ladies of high scholarship and character as prescribed by the national body were charter members of this group. Serving as Basileus was Mrs. Julia K. McArmick of Wilmington, North Carolina following soror Beulah Jones as advisor, soror Lois P. Turner served. A few years later soror Winifred Johnson worked with Omega Beta for a period of two years. At the present time soror Catherlene Thompson serves as the advisor. The Omega Beta Chapter in keeping with the ideals of the Sorority is continuously stressing finer womanhood, sisterly love and scholarship. Their participating activities are all geared to these standards.

FORT BRAGG — POPE AIR FORCE BASE CENTER

Dr. Sydney A. Reid
Dean, Fort Bragg — Pope
A.F.B. Campus

Since the close of World War II, several colleges and universities have conducted extension courses at Fort Bragg and Pope A.F.B. Most of these extension courses were offered by North Carolina State University. The extension program did not fully meet the need of students desiring transfer credit and programs leading to degrees. In July, 1964, North Carolina State University and Fort Bragg Agreed to establish a branch of North Carolina State University at Fort Bragg. The branch began operations in September, 1964. On July 1, 1973, the responsibility for the operation of all undergraduate courses was transferred from North Carolina State University to Fayetteville State University. Graduate programs are offered by North Carolina State University, East Carolina University, and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, with Fayetteville State University providing coordination and administrative support.

The Fort Bragg-Pope Air Force Base Campus provides higher educational opportunities for members of this military community and for their dependents.

Educational services are extended to all persons within its sphere of influence by means of OFF-CAMPUS CENTERS, SATELLITE CAMPUSES, WEEKEND COLLEGE, extension courses, by lectures, and by such other means and methods as may seem to the Board of Trustees and officers of the administration as most effective, and with the responsibility for such other programs as are deemed necessary to meet the needs of its constituency and of the state.

At present, curricula are offered in four programs: (1) the regular four-year program leading to the B.S. and B.A. degrees; (2) two year programs leading to Associate in Arts Degree; (3) The Summer Schools, and (4) Continuing Education and Community Services.

WE HAVE DONE OUR BEST

Editor's Message

There are many people whom I can thank for contributing to make this the best yearbook ever produced at Fayetteville State University. The book is a record of different, small and important events, dates, and persons who made this university what it is today.

The job as editor is and was for me very time consuming and demanding. But with the help of my small, dedicated and efficient staff we did our best.

I would like to thank the staff, and the advisors, Mr. Irving Veazie, Dean A. J. McCoy, Mr. John B. Henderson and Dr. Maurice Hayes for standing by me when it seemed like I was all alone.

A special thanks to Mary Gibson for the superb job as acting editor during January 1977.
